Creative Campus FILM FESTIVAL

February 6 to 10

Tesla World Light

New York, 1905. Visionary inventor Nikola Tesla makes one last appeal to J.P. Morgan, his onetime benefactor. Inspired by real events, this electrifying short is a spectacular burst of image and sound that draws as much from the tradition of avant-garde cinema as it does from animated documentary.

My Father’s Tools

In honour of his father, Stephen continues the production of traditional baskets, finding peace in his studio through a deep connection with the man who taught him these traditional skills.

Bad Seeds

Bad Seeds takes us to a bizarre world populated by carnivorous plants that can change shapes the way a chameleon changes colours. The veteran director deftly connects growth with rivalry and evolution with competition, crafting an increasingly shocking duel that’s peppered with allusions to the western, the Cold War, board games, and much more.

March 28 & 29

Scott Andrew Christensen

Poetry in Motion: Bridging Worlds

Join Scott as he encourages learners, staff, and passers-by to create poetry through a participatory “live” poetry kiosk theme of Bridging Worlds highlighted by the theme of diversity and inclusion. Three Maritime writers of various cultures and backgrounds—George Elliott Clarke, Rita Joe, and Antonine Maillet—will inspire the sharing of craft via the richness of their respective Maritime-based identities. The Artist on Campus will support and guide participants as they engage their own unique voices and respective artistry as the two-day Bridging Worlds event heightens the profile of poetry on the CBU campus while recognizing and garnering interest for the 25th National Poetry Month in April 2023.

March 1 & 2

Evelyn White

As the March 2023 Artist-on-Campus, Halifax writer Evelyn C. White will welcome CBU students, staff, faculty and the general community to engage with her about her book, Every Goodbye Ain’t Gone: A Photonarrative of Black Heritage on Salt Spring Island, BC (2009). The landmark release documents the little-known history of a group of free Blacks from the US who migrated to the forested western Canadian landscape in the late 1850s and highlights the growing Black population on the island located in the Salish Sea off the coast of Vancouver.

MONOYPE

Monotype is a hybrid of painting and printmaking made by tracing a photo onto plexiglass and transferring it to paper. It is a shortcut to good drawing, but it is also a chance operation. You never know what you will get, because it’s a collaboration between what you want and what your materials want to do. It produces a picture you couldn’t have planned beforehand, which is a definition of what art does. Bring an 8.5 X 11 photocopy of your face and we will make as many monotypes as time allows.
