Artist In RESIDENCE

Meagan Musseau

Meagan Musseau is a L'nu woman, artist, and dancer from Elmastukwek, Ktaqmuk (Bay of Islands, Newfoundland) currently living in Sydney, Unama'kik. She nourishes an interdisciplinary arts practice by working with customary art forms and new media, such as textiles, basketry, beadwork, land-based performance, drawing, painting, video and installation.

Meagan works with natural and synthetic materials as a way to interweave stories of adaptation, continuation, and resilience into artistic creation. Her works explore themes of kinship, harvesting, connection to land, and matriarchal empowerment. Meagan creates contemporary art exhibitions that have been shown in galleries such as grunt gallery, Vancouver; Ociciwan Contemporary Art Centre, Edmonton; AKA artist-run centre, Saskatoon; and the Mi'kma'ki Artists' Spotlight space at the Art Gallery of Nova Scotia, Halifax.

Meagan's artwork has also exhibited internationally at the North Atlantic Triennial which travelled to Portland Museum of Art, Maine, Reykjavik Art Museum, Iceland, and the Bildmuseet Art Museum, Sweden. She participated in artist residencies at Indigenous Arts Intensive, University of British Columbia Okanagan campus (2022), Dreaming the Land (2021-22), Neighbourhood Dance Works (2019), Banff Centre for Arts and Creativity (2017 & 2018), and the Indigenous Emerging Artist Program (2015-16).

Artist Talk: Creating an Art exhibition

February 6 | 6pm-8pm | McConnell Library, Sydney

Meagan Musseau's artist talk will focus on the stages of creating a full body of artwork, from initial inspiration to exhibition, as well as the many pieces that go into a professional arts practice. The goal of this artist talk is to be a resource for anyone passionate about creating and sharing their artwork in community as well as on regional or national levels.

Artist In RESIDENCE

Artist Talk: Exploring Materials in Contemporary Indigenous Art

March 6 | 6pm-8pm | Membertou Heritage Park

What is materiality and activation? Meagan Musseau's artist talk will focus on a collection of artwork and the ways she uses materials to explore different themes in her practice. From textiles to photography as well as Mi'kmaw basketry and land-based performance, Meagan's work takes on a variety of forms using customary and contemporary materials.

Workshop Series: Beads and Pitewey

Jan. 25, Feb. 27 & March 28 | 11:30am-1pm
Centre for Sound Communities Studio

Join Meagan Musseau for a series of beadwork sessions. She will be providing a beadwork kit and skills to create your own artwork. Participants can work on their beadwork during each session or independently. The goal of this workshop is to create a space to gather and bead while drinking pitewey (tea).

Students, Faculty, and Staff are welcome.
