

Health Innovation

Student Pitch Event

March 9, 2024

Are you a current student or recent grad from CBU or NSCC?

CBU's Centre for Health, Wellness and Extended Learning, in partnership with Nova Scotia Health, is gathering students with ideas for health innovation to take part in a pitch competition. The Student Health Innovation Pitch is a contest that welcomes creative approaches to improve health outcomes.

Prize money totaling $5000 will be awarded to the top three student pitches, as determined by a panel of judges, along with access to business mentorship to prepare you for success!

What is health innovation?

- A device or product
- Software or related app
- A process or program to support community health

CBU's Island Sandbox will provide training and mentorship to prepare eligible students to share their ideas before a live judging panel on Saturday, March 9, 2024.

Deadline to apply is February 10, 2024
